

'NEW FOREST AT WAR' DVD OFFER

The Daily Echo has teamed up with 1st Take to give readers a fantastic offer on their new DVD 'The New Forest At War' where you can purchase a copy for just £13.95 + £2.00 p&p.

Many of the 14 million annual visitors who enjoy the magnificent scenery of the New Forest today will be unaware of the pivotal role played by the area during the Second World War, as now revealed by the most extensive film ever produced on the subject, which benefits from a wide range of high quality interviewees and specialist contributors.

It includes a comprehensive feature on the twelve wartime airfields of the forest, which is enhanced by the fascinating recollections of Typhoon pilot Jerry Eaton, who flew from Needs Oar Point; a tribute to the Royal Observer Corps, dubbed 'the eyes and ears of the RAF'; and the important work which was performed at the requisitioned estates of Breamore and Exbury.
